Available Fields or Programmes

The 2027 Commonwealth PhD Scholarship call does not provide a fixed list of PhD programmes at the University of Sussex. The CSC states that there is no restriction on subject of study, provided the proposed research relates to one of its six development themes.

Applicants should therefore select an eligible full-time PhD research programme at the University of Sussex that aligns with the CSC development themes and their proposed research.

CSC Development Themes:

- Science and technology for development
- Promoting innovation and entrepreneurship
- Improving population health, health systems and capacity
- Strengthening global peace, security and governance
- Strengthening resilience and response to crises
- Access, inclusion and opportunity

Note: Do not publish a specific list of Sussex PhD programmes as Commonwealth-eligible unless the 2027 official call or Sussex confirms those programmes.

How to Apply

The application requires two separate applications: one to the Commonwealth Scholarship Commission (CSC) and one through an approved nominating agency.

Choose a PhD programme and Sussex supervisor: Identify a suitable full-time PhD at the University of Sussex and contact a potential supervisor. The supervisor must provide a supporting statement.

1. Apply to the University of Sussex: Submit your PhD application online with your CV, academic transcripts and certificates, statement of interest, two academic referees, and required English-language evidence. Sussex recommends applying well before the scholarship deadline.
2. Apply through CSC Central: Complete the Commonwealth PhD Scholarship application online through the CSC's application system. The 2027/28 application deadline is 20 October 2026 at 16:00 BST.
3. Apply to a nominating agency: You must also apply to an approved national nominating agency in your home country or an eligible participating NGO/charitable body. Each nominator may have its own deadline and requirements.
4. Submit supporting documents: Upload the required transcripts, references, research/study plan, Development Impact Statement, and Sussex supervisor statement through CSC Central.
5. Nomination and selection: The nominating agency shortlists candidates and submits nominations to the CSC. Final selection is made by the CSC based on its selection criteria.
6. Application route: Applicant → University of Sussex + CSC Central + Nominating Agency. The CSC does not accept direct applications without a nominating route.

Required Documents

According to the current Commonwealth PhD Scholarship guidance, applicants should provide:

- Academic transcripts for all relevant higher education qualifications.
- Degree certificates or evidence of completed qualifications.
- References from the required referees.

- Supporting statement from the proposed UK PhD supervisor.
- Research proposal / study plan as required in the CSC application.
- Development Impact Statement addressing the expected impact of the proposed study.
- English language evidence, where required by the University of Sussex or the relevant PhD programme.
- Passport or national identity document as required to verify nationality.

References and the PhD supervisor's supporting statement must be uploaded to the CSC application system before submission; incomplete applications may be rejected.

Note: A CV should not be listed as a mandatory CSC supporting document unless it is specifically requested in the current application form or by the University of Sussex.

Important Dates

- Application Opens: 8 September 2026
- CSC Application Deadline: 20 October 2026, 16:00 BST
- Nominating Agency Deadline: Varies by country and agency; applicants must meet both the agency and CSC deadlines.
- Interview Period: Not specified in the current official call.
- Results: No specific results date has been announced.
- Study Start: September/October 2027

The official CSC confirms the opening and closing dates for the 2027/28 cycle, while the University of Sussex also lists 20 October 2026 at 16:00 as the application deadline. The CSC notes that nominating agencies may set earlier deadlines.
